

CALL FOR PAPERS

RISEBA University of Applied Sciences invites researchers to submit articles to the next JBM volumes on topics regarding business management and to the Special Issue devoted to communication, digital technology, and innovation.

Journal of Business Management

ISSN 1691-5348

Special Issue: Communication, Digital Technology, and Innovation

The Journal of Business Management publishes papers that contribute to an understanding of business management and provides readers with a fresh view of emerging business management practices and research.

The Special Issue seeks to unite academics in a discussion to further the understanding of the behavioural, social, and economic processes at the intersection of communication, digital technology, and innovation. Major topics of interest involve the impact of digitalization on collaborative strategies and communication systems. Within this context, scholars are invited to delve into various aspects, including how these changes influence cooperation, coordination, competitive challenges, and opportunities. Their examination will focus on the intricate relationship between social dynamics, technology, and organizational elements that shape collaboration in the modern digital era. Editor of the Special Issue: RISEBA Assoc. Prof. Dr. Valters Kaže.

The Journal of Business Management particularly encourages academics, researchers and doctoral students to share their experience, knowledge and practices with an international audience. The journal is indexed in the ERIH PLUS, EBSCO and Index Copernicus scientific databases.
